The Ruby Lake Lagoon Nature Reserve is a 14 hectare reserve featuring a freshwater lagoon and forested acreage on the Sunshine Coast. We are a non-profit society and registered charity incorporated in April 2002. The purpose of our Society is to preserve and enhance the natural habitat and wildlife of the Ruby Lake Lagoon, to facilitate local environmental education and to assist in monitoring the ecological health of the region. In addition, we oversee the operation of the Earth Fair Bookstore in Madeira Park and the operation and community use of the Wood Duck Bus! For information on use of the Wood Duck Bus, please contact the Society.

We aim to make stewardship of our natural environment accessible for all members of our community, and to provide the spaces for all of us to come together to exchange knowledge and ideas. The program operates in the day and at night, meeting youth “where they are”. During the day, staff speaks about safety with youth at schools and convenes with community agencies, and the public. At night, staff continue the work speaking with youth, primarily ages 13 to 22, at drop-in programs, malls, local beaches and on the street. Staff work from their vehicles in the community, identifying themselves with the program, and handing out small flashlights imprinted with the SCYO cell number, which connect youth to staff whenever they need support. Staff also assists youth in crisis, assisting youth to take the needed steps to improve each and every situation.

Hikes are scheduled two months in advance and distributed to all members as well as being posted at www.scrd.ca/hiking-group. The hikes take place on trails from Egmont to Roberts Creek and all points in between - with the occasional full day hike out of the area for those interested in participating. Hikes start at 8:30am and generally last from 1.5 to 2 hours every Monday and Wednesday. A good level of fitness is required as some of the routes have uneven terrain and some elevation gains. No commitment is required: get on the e-mail list (so you will get a copy of the current hiking schedule and notices about cancelled hikes, changes in routes, etc.) or check out the website and then just show up at the designated meeting spot on the morning of the hike. This is a great way to get to know the trails on the Coast you may not know existed – and to meet like-minded, energetic neighbours at the same time.

Outdoor Recreation | Hiking Trails (sourced mainly from www.scrd.ca)

Dan Bosch Trail

Follow Hwy 101 to Ruby Lake and find access at Dan Bosch Park, 650 metres north of the resort.

A quarter-mile loop under large old-growth Douglas Fir along the shoreline to the warm, crystalline waters of Ruby Lake. Some steep terrain will be encountered.

Outhouse near beach. Difficulty: Easy

Francis Point Marine Park Trails

Highway 101 to Francis Peninsula Road. Follow, turn left on Merrill Road. Drive straight into the parking lot. Trail starts at parking lot.

Multi-trails in this park. Walk down entrance trail. Turn right to hike up to the panoramic view of the ocean. Or, turn left and follow the coastline and walk through Arbutus groves. Outhouse at beginning of the trail. Difficulty: Easy to Moderate

Garden Bay Marine Trail

Take Garden Bay Road from Hwy 101 in Kleindale, then turn left on Claydon Rd. in Garden Bay to find the park entrance and trail access.

A short, level, 200-meter walk leading to a juniper stand on a rocky shoreline in Garden Bay Marine Park. The bluffs offer great views of coastline, sea birds and local marine traffic. Difficulty: Easy

Homesite Caves Trail

Turn right on the Forest Service Road 3.1 km north of Halfmoon Bay on Hwy 101. Park 100 meters past the power line at the orange rock cairn which marks the trail entrance. When the trail opens to an old spur road, follow it back to the logging road and turn left to return.

An easy, 2 km (30 min.) loop on a fairly rough, forested trail to Homesite Creek, a small waterfall and limestone caves. Difficulty: Easy. You will be walking on an active logging road!

John Daly Trail

Take Garden Bay Road from Hwy 101 in Kleindale and find the park entrance about 1 km from the intersection.

This trail leads across a bridge for a short walk through John Daly Park along Anderson Creek. If you don't mind forcing your way through heavy brush and muddy terrain, turn left before crossing the bridge to reach the shore of Oyster Bay. Anderson creek is a salmon wintering pond and productive spawning creek. Difficulty: Moderate

Katherine Lake Trails

Take Garden Bay Road from Hwy 101 in Kleindale, then turn right at the Katherine Lake Park sign about 5.5 km from the intersection.

Katherine Lake Trail: A 500-metre (15 min.) walk to elevated views of Katherine Lake.

Spring Creek Trail: A 1 km (30 min.) walk through second growth forest. Toilets at Katherine Lake Campground. Difficulty: Easy

Klein Lake Trail

Parking lot at Hwy 101 & Egmont Road.

A 37 km trail between Earl's Cove and Halfmoon Bay, with a 1.5-metre width, is suitable for bicycling as well as walking. Difficulty: Easy to Moderate

Lions Park Trail

Turn off Hwy 101 at the Lions Club sign, about 1.3 km north of Garden Bay Road

This 1 km (30 min.) walk through Lions Park takes you along a woodland trail edged with moss, salal and ferns, over criss-crossing creeks and under a second-growth Douglas fir and alder canopy. Enjoy rest stops at rustic bridges and benches with great views of waterfalls. Difficulty: Easy

Mount Daniel Trail at Daniel Point Park

Take Garden Bay Road from Hwy 101. You'll find the entrance about 3.4 km along, at the first dirt road on your left past Oyster Bay Road. 200 metres in, take the left fork and continue another 200 metres to the trail.

This steep, 2.5 km (at least an hour) hike has a return of about 20 minutes. Most hikers agree that the top of Mt. Daniel has the most spectacular views of the area's waters and coastline. At the summit is a historical Sechelt Indian puberty ritual site featuring "moonstones," an ancient circle of rocks used for meditation by native maidens. Sechelt Indians also used Mt. Daniel as a lookout for invading tribes. Difficulty: Difficult

Mount Hallowell Trail

From Hwy 101 in Halfmoon, take Trout Lake Road. At 12 km, take the left fork. At 19.5 km, find the red cable spool to follow the trail through clear-cuts and old growth forest.

A moderate 2 km (at least 1 hr.) hike in Spipiyus Park to a restored Forest Service fire tower and panoramic views of the area at the summit. The tower, over 50 years old, is likely the only one left in the province. Difficulty: Moderate

Pender Hill Trail

From Hwy 101 in Kleindale, take Garden Bay Road, then follow Irvine's Landing Road from the fork (keep right). Turn right on Lee Road, and you'll find the trail access sign about 1.1 km in.

A steep, 30 min. hike to a fabulous, panoramic view of the waters of Pender Harbour from a level, open, moss-covered hilltop in Pender Hill Park. Difficulty: Moderate

Ruby-Klein Traverse

Can be accessed from either Ruby Lake or Klein Lake, but you'll have to retrace your path or have a vehicle at the other end, a 12 km drive.

A 4 km (1 hr.) hike mostly through conifer forest linking Ruby and Klein Lakes. Spectacular views of Ruby Lake and the Sechelt Peninsula, and the top of the "saddle" between the lakes is a perfect spot for a picnic lunch and contemplation. Difficulty: Easy to Moderate

Skookumchuck Trail

Take Hwy 101 to Earl's Cove, then turn on Egmont Road. Just past Waugh Lake, at the Skookumchuck Park parking lot, you'll find the entrance.

An easy 5 km (1.5 hr.) hike on a level, manicured, mostly canopied trail through Skookumchuck Park and past Brown Lake to Roland Point, where you can view the dramatic Skookumchuck ("strong water") tidal rapids, back dropped by snow-capped mountains. This is the most popular hike on the Sunshine Coast. Time your arrival for the changing of the tide for the most dramatic action, and if you're lucky you'll see fearless kayakers battle powerful currents. Dogs must be leashed. Difficulty: Easy

Smugglers Cove Trails

Follow the Provincial Park signs on Brooks Road off Hwy 101 in Halfmoon Bay, south of Pender Harbour.

A 1.5 km (20 min.) walk on a forested trail to a secluded anchorage and campsite, ending at a small bay with views of South Thormanby and Texada Islands. Rugged trails branch out across mossy bluffs dotted with arbutus and fir to views of Welcome Pass and the Strait of Georgia. Difficulty: Easy to moderate

It is a fairly steep trail with a high level of difficulty.

The centre of downtown Egmont; the old Egmont School site. This small, level park in the centre of Egmont features a grassy field, tennis court and playground. It is the site of most of the annual Egmont Day activities.

Francis Point Marine Park

From Hwy 101, follow Francis Peninsula Road to Merrill Road. Turn left and find the park entrance at the end of the road. Multi trails leading to pebble beach, to a panoramic ocean view at the top of Francis Peninsula or a trail along the waterfront that leads to a grove of Arbutus trees. The offshore area is noted for exceptional diving. The 81-hectare marine park and adjacent ecological reserve was dedicated by the provincial government in 2001. In 2009, Barbara DeMott donated 2.2 hectares to be added to the park through the BC EcoGift program in exchange for tax benefits. Amenities: Outhouse at beginning of trail.

Features a boardwalk across a beaver dam, seating, interpretive signs, fish ladder for spawning salmon and variety of waterfowl including resident Great Blue herons. Once an inaccessible bog and fondly known as West Nile Pond, it was developed as a project of the Pender Harbour Growth & Development Partnership and named after long time Egmont resident and devoted environmentalist, Iris Griffith.

John Daly Park

Take Garden Bay Road from Hwy 101. Proceed 1 km to the entrance on your left. Features a salmon wintering pond, trail and a large grassy area suitable for picnics. It's ideal for viewing the dramatic spawning activity from late September to late December. Black bears, raccoons and bald eagles are attracted by spawning salmon, so keep your dog leashed— some just can't resist a roll on a stinky, rotting salmon carcass. At spawning time, late fall, you'll see dozens of eagles and maybe a bear or two. This small regional park in Kleindale was named after an eccentric local commercial fisherman who married author Edith Iglauer (her book and the subsequent movie, Fishing With John, was based on their early relationship)

Katherine Lake Park and Beach

Take Garden Bay Road at Hwy 101. Proceed 5.5 km to the entrance across the road from Garden Bay Lake. Watch for white sign. Popular beach and park. Sandy beach for swimming. Two floating docks. Playground. Cliff jumping. Forest Trails. Turtle spawning site. Great for families. Pender Hill Park

Ruby Lake Lagoon Nature Reserve

Take Highway 101 from Madeira Park. Just before Ruby Lake Resort on the right hand side. This 25-acre reserve by Ruby Lake features a freshwater lagoon, forested area and the Iris Griffith Interpretive Centre.

Amenities: Interpretive Centre has washrooms

Seafarer's Millennium Park

This park is day-use only (no camping) and dogs must be leashed. Please respect the privately owned property adjacent to the entrance trail.

Amenities: Outhouse at beginning and near the end of the trail. Picnic sites.

Spipiyus Park

Access is at the top of Menacher Road in Kleindale or Trout Lake Road in Halfmoon Bay. The largest park in the area, featuring a restored, historical fire tower on top of Mount Hallowell and a network of logging roads, mountain-bike trails and hiking trails through almost 3,000 hectares looking down on Pender Harbour from the Caren Range. Larger wildlife species include Roosevelt elk, black bear, cougar, wolves and coyotes. Established in 1999, named in the Coast Salish language for the marbled murrelet, a red-listed water bird that nests in the area. Some logging roads may be active. Enter the park with caution in hunting season; most of it is open to hunters. Motorized access, i.e. trail bikes, snowmobiles, etc. is permitted only on existing trails.

Tyner Park

South end of Lily Lake, access is across from the mailboxes on Bargain Harbour Road on Francis Peninsula Road OR across Francis Peninsula Road from the Pender Harbour

Health Centre. Just over ten acres of lakeside woodland, currently under development for clean-up, removal of invasive species and construction of a low-impact trail connecting with a walk around Lily's Lake. Long-time and well-known residents, Jim and Vi Tyner, bequeathed their land to the SCRD for use as a park. Their wish was that their land be left natural and undisturbed, a place for the wildlife to have sanctuary in the steadily developing community. We hope you respect their dream.

We showcase world class musicians in as many jazz styles as possible, from Bebop to Gypsy to Afro-Cuban to Big Band to open new ears and hearts to jazz. Our venues are small, intimate, and surround the Harbour from Madeira Park to Garden Bay. Each year we provide a free clinic to the music students from all three Coast high schools taught by a renowned jazz master. Our lineup includes international, Canadian and BC stars, up and comers, and several local Sunshine Coast groups. Of the 20 some performances that take place over the weekend, only 3 events are ticketed, to encourage the highest possible number of people to attend. We subsidize the Slo-Cat, the local water taxi, during the weekend, so that audience members can move inexpensively between venues. Fun for anyone between the ages of 5 and 95. Volunteer Opportunities? Yes
